

1. Home Page:

➤ Desktop Version-

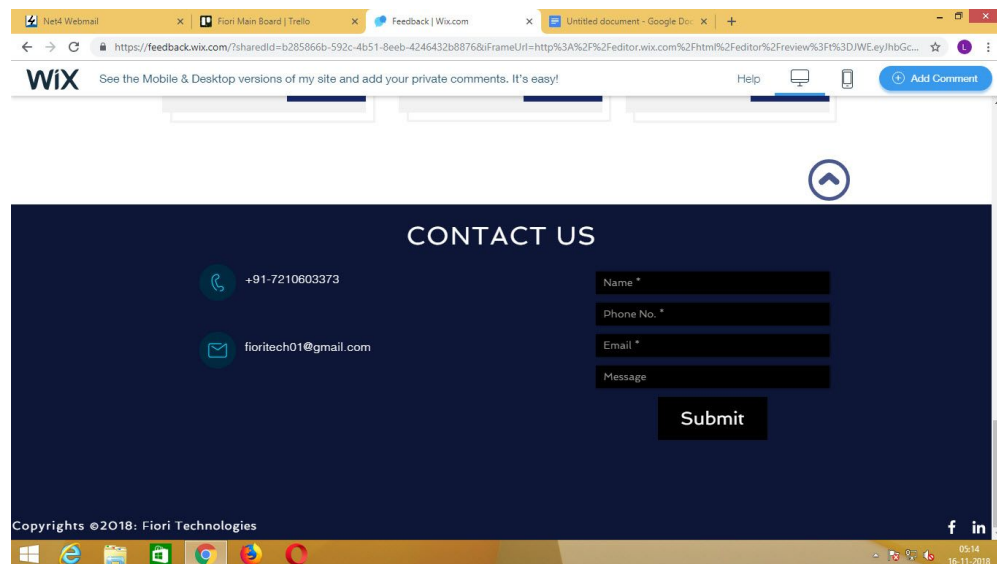

- At navigation items in services section there are two “digital marketing” links, the content of both the links are same. The only difference is that the first link is simple page and second link contain some animation in the headings.

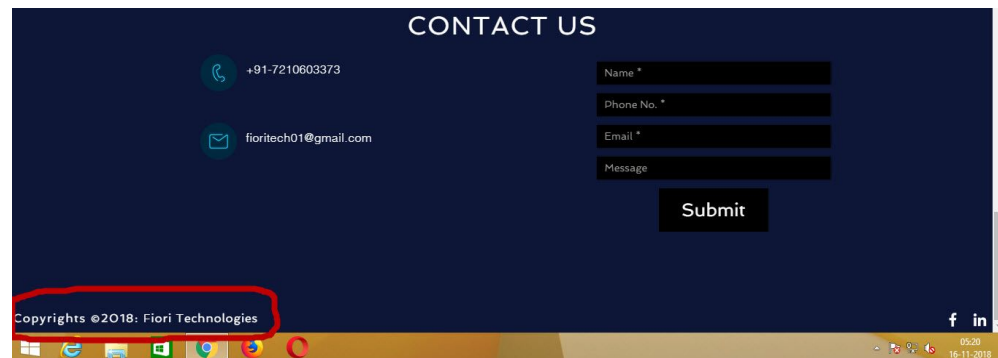

- At the bottom of the page there is a button which takes us to the top of the page but it is fixed at the bottom of the page itself, instead it should be movable, i.e. Dynamic, with the page.

- There is no need for the footer section (where the “contact us” part is) to be this large. It can be resized to smaller dimensions.

- The bottom of every page where the “Copyrights ©2018: Fiori Technologies” is written looks blurry.

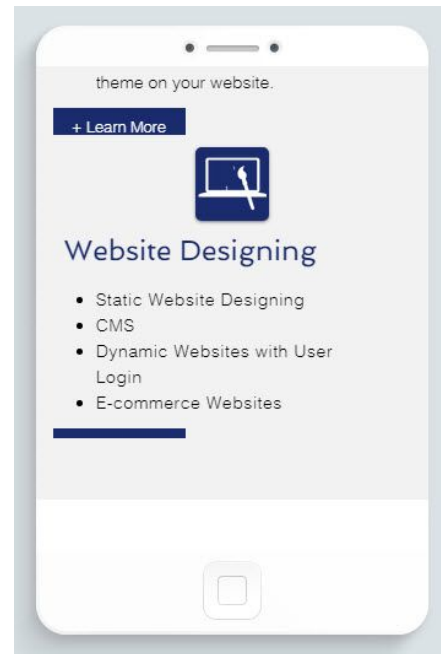

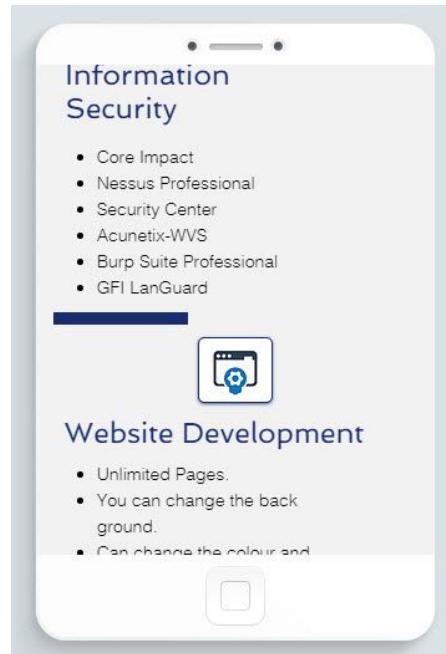

➤ Mobile Version-

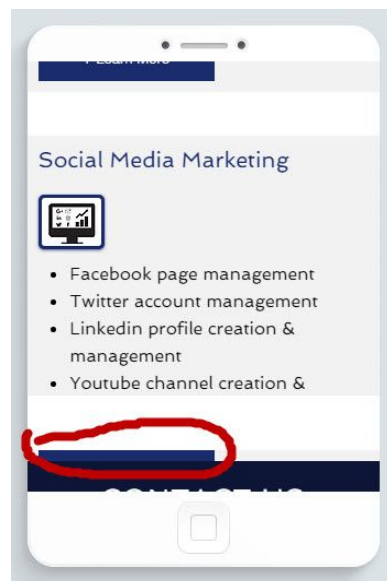

- Below the first image where the fiori technology is return along with a design in it is overlapping the text underneath it.

- The elements - information security, website development, website designing are overlapping each other due to which “learn more” section of all these three elements are truncated.

- The digital marketing element is missing and “learn more” section of social media marketing is truncated.

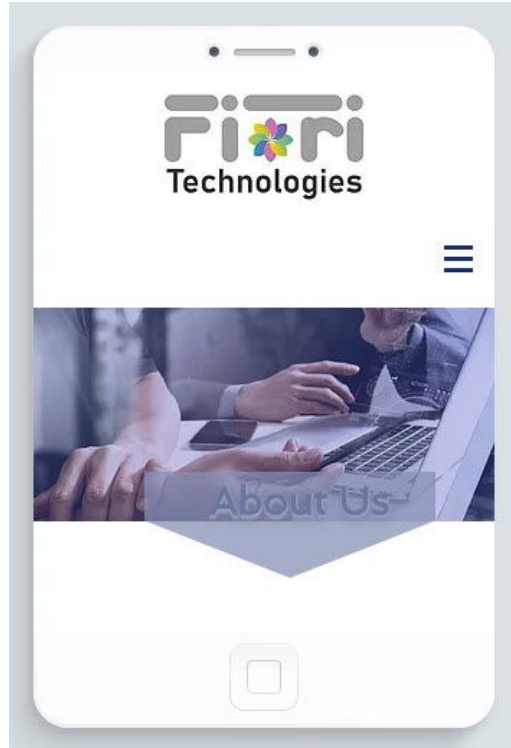

- The contact us box is still very big when seen in mobile devices. There comes a part where it shows nothing but blue blank area when you scroll down.

3. Services Page:

- When we are opening “digital marketing” page from “website designing” and “website development” page it is displaying a page with different theme as compared to when we open “digital marketing” page from “infrastructure services” although the content is same in both the “digital market” pages.

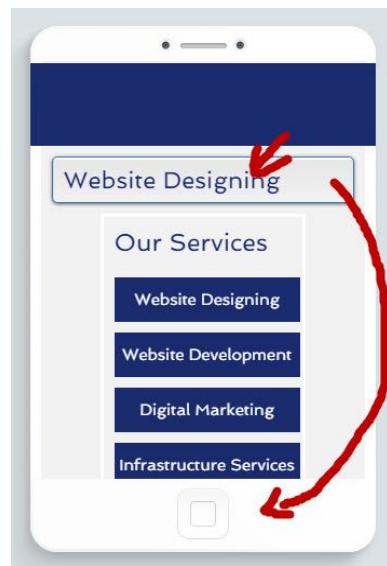

- When we hover the content of “our services” section in “website designing”, “website development” and “digital marketing” page its background colour changes to dark blue but when we hover the content of “our services” section in “infrastructure services” page its background colour changes to red.

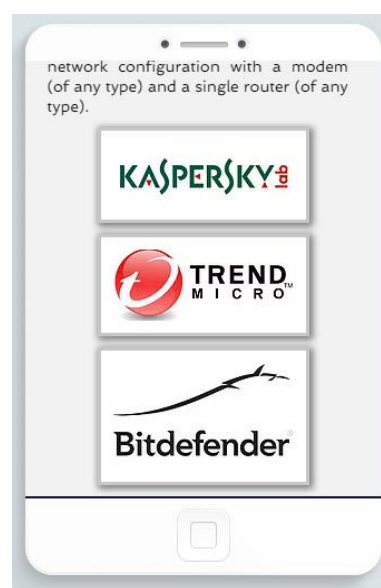

- The theme of all services pages’ sub-sections are different instead they should be same.

- In mobile version, “website designing” box should be written below the “our services” section.
- Also the “website designing” should be written in the middle of the box instead of the left to make it look better.
(common for all sub-pages)
